

Samuel Wilbur is a Minneapolis-based singer-songwriter, high school teacher, and passionate environmentalist. By day, he teaches social studies and journalism; by night, he crafts indie folk-pop anthems packed with lush harmonies, sharp hooks, and powerful messages about climate change, capitalism, and hope.